PANEL II: CSDR Review: Regulators' perspective

Michel Degryse

Market Infrastructures Senior Officer, AMF

Michel DEGRYSE joined the Autorité des Marchés Financiers in 2012 within the Market Infrastructures Division as Senior Officer.

Michel is responsible for the oversight of the central security depositories as monitors as well trading venues. He has actively contributed to the European regulation applicable to central security depositories and currently works on the implementation of CSDR and Market and Financial Directive.

Michel graduated from ESCP Europe with an Executive MBA and also holds two specialized Masters, one in finance, accounting, auditing and a second in banking and financial markets.

Michel started his career in 1994 at Dresdner Kleinwort Benson and joined BNP Paribas in 1999 to streamline the processes and contribute to the development of equity derivatives activities where he became head of process and organization team. In 2004, Michel moved to the equity finance teams as structurer and was appointed in 2006 deputy head of fund services in charge of developing the prime brokerage activities and managing the European equities portfolio swaps.
